LIBRARY VISITORS IMPORTUNED TO BUY

CRITICISMS AGAINST WATCHMEN.

Unsuspecting Tourists Find Uniformed Guardians Urging Souvenirs at Every Opportunity—Philadelphia's Experience.

Numerous complaints have been made of late by visitors to the Congressional Library of some of the watchmen who are said to be very importunate regarding the purchase of souvenirs, which they carry around in their pockets and offer at every opportunity to those who enquire of them for information regarding matters pertaining to the Library.

It was noticed by a reporter for The Times who made a personal investigation of the complaint that these watchmen are just as accomplished in the manner of "spotting" customers as their less fortunate brothers, the street hawkers of souvenirs or Christmas toys. They are very persistent in their efforts to dispose of that "nice little souvenir" for "only a quarter." They follow the person whom they think they can "stick," and make the latter's visit to the Library a burden instead of a pleasure.

This is especially true of some of the watchmen who are doing duty during the evening hours at the Rotunda gallery. Their way of discovering a customer is truly indicative of the proverbial faker and huckster, and shows that they have studied their parts well. This is the way they "catch" their man.

Minerva a Drawing Card.

At the head of the stairs leading to the Library gallery, is the large and beautiful picture of Minerva, the goddess of wisdom, a rare specimen of mosaic work, and the pride of the Library. This piece of art is especially pointed out in the catalogues and illustrated views of Washington, and it is well worth a trip to the Library for a view of this picture alone. The guides point it out to their charges and all day long there may be found in front of this piece of art groups of admiring visitors.

The watchmen are well aware of this drawing card, and take due advantage thereof. Two or three of them usually take position at the door leading to the gallery whence they can see the visitors and pick out their prey. They follow the stranger at a safe distance at first, but gradually come nearer. Finally the guide catches up with them which "happens" to be at a place where the visitor's attention is attracted to some statue or some other object of curiosity.

The Amiable Peddler.

This is the peddler's opportunity. He comes up with smiling face and volunteers information and explanation. With a glib tongue he informs the enquiring visitor that Minerva, the goddess of wisdom, is the "finest piece of art of its kind in the world," and that the little mosaics are "gold of twenty-two carats." With this, he in a careless and matter-of-fact way brings out of his coat pocket a handful of varicolored blocks of mosaic set in fine brass wire resembling gold.

NEWS AND GOSSIP FROM GEORGETOWN

C. Stump, Senior Warden; Benjamin H. Hunt, Junior Warden; A. B. Bennett, Secretary; Isaac Birch, Treasurer; Dr. Charles T. Lindsey, Senior Deacon; C. H. Williams, Junior Deacon; Lem Towers, Jr., Senior Steward; Richard S. Clifton, Junior Steward; Rev. W. Tarloe Snyder, Chaplain and George W. Allen, Tyler.

Short addresses were made by Rev. Stanley Billheimer and Rev. W. Taylor Snyder.

Mrs. Webster's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Harriet White Webster, who died Saturday at her residence, 1038 Jefferson Avenue, took place this afternoon. Services were held at the First Baptist Church, of which she had been an ardent member. Mrs. Webster was fifty-two years of age and was ill but a short time.

Armistead Webster, her husband and four grown daughters survive. Mrs. Mary Keys, Mrs. Arnetta Harrod, Mrs. Annie Trumbull, and Mrs. Susan Smith.

Masonic Building Beautified.

The proceeds of the entertainment given some months ago, under the auspices of Miphah Chapter, O. E. S., have been used in beautifying the main room of the Masonic building on Thirty-second Street.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Collins, of 3016 O Street, will celebrate next Monday the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. P. J. Clarke, of 3255 N Street northwest, returned yesterday from Jersey City, where she has been visiting for the past month. Mrs. Clarke has as her guest, Mrs. D. Shalloe, of New York city, formerly a resident of this city.

Business Notes.

A permit was issued to Ernest Dalbe yesterday for the erection of two modern brick dwellings on the north side of S Street, near Thirty-fourth. The houses will cost $8,000 and be known as 3401 and 3403 S Street.

Annie Campbell yesterday transferred to Duncan Campbell part of lot 20 of Reno subdivision, of Tenleytown.

SAMOANS BUILD MEMORIAL.

Honor Memory of McKinley by Constructing a Roadway.

TUTUILA, Samoa, Dec. 3, via San Francisco, Dec. 17.—A public road from one of the leading towns to Pago Pago is being constructed as a memorial to President McKinley.

The natives decided to build this road instead of holding a feast and indulging the old heathen rites to the dead.

Mrs. Tilley turned the first sod and the natives are now working in large gangs to complete the road.

J. Jay Gould—tree toys and everything.

Maidenhood and Womanhood

At the threshold of wedded life with its cares and responsibilities, what more appropriate could a bride consider than a box of the medicine that will keep the new family in perfect health.

"I took Cascarets myself and they are fine. I also have been giving them to my children."

—Mrs. Davis, 419 E. Capitol St., Washington.

"Cascarets are the best medicine I ever tried. I cannot be too grateful for them."

—Mrs. Ella Sanders, Fox, Mo.

"I was for a long time troubled with constipation and catarrh of the throat. After taking Cascarets with good results and am satisfied I will be cured."

—Mrs. H. F. Veomana, 631 Champlain Ave., Chicago.

"I have used Cascarets and must say they are wonderful. I recommended them to all my lady friends."

—Mrs. J. H. Mayes, Chardon, Ia.

There are many physical disturbances of the bodily functions connected with the change from maidenhood to womanhood, and the health and wholesome life not only of the bride, the new wife and prospective mother, but that of the new generation that is to be, depend upon keeping all operations of the digestive canal regular and natural.

With Cascarets, Candy Cathartic, the only medicine that will do it gently yet surely without grip or gripe.

WOMAN SLAIN BY BURGLAR.

The Victim Prominent in Pittsburgh Society.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 17.—Miss Harriet C. Murphy, one of the best known young ladies of the East End, was murdered about 3 o'clock this morning by a burglar.

Miss Murphy was 28 years old, and was a sister of John A. Murphy, an attorney, and select councilman from the Twentieth ward.

She lived with her brother at 6251 Howe Street, within sight of the Kenmare Hotel.

Her apartments were in the rear of the house, and her brother occupied a front room. He did not know of the shooting until Miss Murphy's maid aroused him.

He had to break the lock to get into the room, in which he found the body of his sister.

The disordered condition of the room and the disorder of the bedclothes showed that a desperate struggle had taken place between Miss Murphy and the murderer.

The window was raised, but in the bottom of the lower sash was a bullet hole which showed that a shot had been fired from the inside of the room.

Miss Murphy was the possessor of a revolver and was a remarkable good shot for a woman.

Miss Murphy was treasurer of the Kinsley House Fund popular charity and kept late collections until she found it convenient to bank it. This money is missing.

How much it amounted to Mr. Murphy does not know.

ARABIAN FOR ROOSEVELT.

Blooded Steed to Be Sent President From Morocco.

MANCHESTER, VI., Dec. 17.—A letter has been received here from Capt. John Coff, at Morocco, saying that he expected a fine Arabian saddle horse to reach him from the interior about December 16 and that the animal would be shipped to Washington for President Roosevelt's personal use.

There's no better method of cleaning carpets and rugs than by our compressed air process. Blows out every speck of dirt, removes spots and stains of all kinds, and restores the original colors.

Furniture cleaned, too, without the slightest injury.
